

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

1
2 A mobile base includes a main body having a first side formed with 3 two first foot portions and a second side formed with two second foot portions,
4 two fixing rollers each mounted on a respective first foot portion, an adjusting 5 plate mounted between the second foot portions, an adjusting roller mounted 6 on the adjusting plate to move therewith, and an adjusting unit mounted 7 between the second foot portions and urged on the adjusting plate to press the 8 adjusting plate to move. Thus, the adjusting unit is hidden in a space between 9 the first side rack and the second side rack, so that the adjusting unit is not 10 operated unintentionally.
